Self-Learning Manual: Activity 12

Creativity and Imagination:

Stand up comedy

Age: 9-11 years

Activity description

The child is required to deliver a Stand Up Comedy performance for 60 seconds. The Stand Up Comedy performance should be on the theme “Early morning Whatsapp forwards on Whatsapp Groups”.

To deliver the performance, the child would be required to create/compile a comical script related to the given theme which can be performed for the mentioned duration. Ideally, 4-6 funny punchlines (jokes) per minute is expected every minute in a high quality stand up performance. The child should aim to create content to meet this goal. While stand up comedy will involve content which would always be considered offensive by certain people, it is advisable for the child to consider audience for the activity as same age peer group & apply discretion on content to ensure content suitability. Inappropriate content would be rejected. The child is required to deliver the performance from memory i.e. no reading, no prompts. The performance should not include stammering, repetition of words unless part of script. The child’s stage presence is expected to be impactful & pauses unrelated to content/performance should be avoided. The entire video has to be shot at one go i.e. part recording & video editing is not allowed.

Let the child rehearse the performance a few times & whenever the child is ready, record the video of the child as instructed & submit. Only 1st 60 secs of video would be considered for assessment.

Expert coach speaks

Stand-up comedy is a dialogic monologue, or a grouping of humorous stories, jokes, and one-liners, typically called a shtick, routine, act, or set.

It can take an amateur comedian about 10 years to perfect the technique needed to be a professional comedian; this is a constant process of learning through failure.

Audiences expect a stand-up comedian to provide a constant stream of laughs. The record for most laughs per minute is at twelve laughs per minute.
